To whom it may concern I believe as a citizen of this free country the government does not have right to intervene with any company. The companies of the United States are like the citizens of the United States. They both have the freedom to excel. This is what makes America what it is. In the case regarding Microsoft I believe they have their right to excel. They company has brought us new technology has helped out the economy and had begin a new market. The comapny should not be punished. I believe the majority of the citizens of the United States are grateful for what Microsoft has done and what they will continue to do. Its a shame that my tax money is being used against a company that wanted to excel. Thank you for this opportunity and your time. Take Care Eric W. Ross
